Lawton's Men Engaged in Deadly Struggle With Insurgents.

GENERAL LUNA IS SLAIN BY AGUINALDO'S GUARD.

A SCENE OF HORROR.
MILWAUKEE, June 13.—The fire through Wisconsin Central train succeeded in reaching here this morning, having come through New Richmond at an early hour. The tracks were all clear.

Conductor Gavin says he took fifty refugees from the train, and that the fire broke out through the fire it was so full of smoke. The burning buildings that it was difficult to tell the extent of the disaster. The central part of the town, however, was wrecked. A fire engine had arrived from a neighbor and had been sent to check the flames. There was no medical assistance at that time, one of the local doctors having been called, the other having had both legs broken.

VISITORS WERE VICTIMS.
The crowd he brought in large numbers of visitors for jobs and Gavin

There were there must have been 2,500 to 3,000 people in town. He brought an order for 500 coffins, but this, of course, was simply an estimate of the possible deaths by the local relief committee.

WRECKAGE BURNING FIERCELY.

While it is now regarded as probable that the loss at New Richmond will not come up to the original estimate, it is a great loss to the property owners and the greater. Fire has broken out in the wreckage, which is little more than kindling wood and burns easily.

RELIEF TRAIN ON THE WAY.

At 8 o'clock a relief train left Minneapolis.

TWIN CITIES IN PERIL.
It is just dawning on the Twin Cities what they narrowly escaped an awful disaster, and they are ready to render such aid as is needed.

SEEK REFUGE IN CELLARS.
From the lurid sky and the fall of rain yesterday afternoon, it was apparent that a great disturbance was in progress near the city. Hundreds of families spent the night afternoon in their cellars. It was with little surprise that they learned of the Wisconsin disaster, and every fragment of news is being breathlessly awaited.

MINNEAPOLIS WILL AID.
Some action by the Mayor extending to all municipal aid Minneapolis can spare is to be taken at an early hour.

TOMAH, Wis., June 13.—The storm here last night was the hardest and the heaviest the highest ever known. All the highway bridges on the Lemon Weir river and within ten miles of Tomah were cut and all the bridges on Council Creek except one. Trucks are washed out in all directions, and trains have been unable to arrive or depart.

Associated Press Despatches by The Tribune's Special Licensed Wire.
WASHINGTON, June 13.—The following cablegram has been received from General Otis:
"MANILA, June 13.—Adjutant General, Washington: Lawton's troops had been engaged today with enemy in strong attack which was repulsed on the river, near Bacoor, Cavite province. Have driven enemy with heavy loss; our casualties some thirty. Insurgents in rear of our position not molested until threatened attack in strong force on Manila; now scattered and in retreat; doubtful if they make further stand."
"OTIS."
THE VOLUNTEERS' RETURN
WASHINGTON, June 13.—A cable dispatch from General Otis relative to the departure of the Second Oregon states

It is said that as soon as the Oregon regiment arrives at San Francisco the sailors will be ordered to disembark the shells and the ships then proceed up the coast to the Columbia River and Fort Stevens will be determined by the time of arrival of the Volunteers at San Francisco.

WARSHIPS BOMBARD REBELS.

4:40 P. M.—At daylight today the rebels at Cavite were to drop two shells from a gunboat and were ordered to leave the church in the navy yard. The only damage done was splintering the top of the huge spurs on the mole.

The gunboats Callao, Manila and Molambo then proceeded to dismount the guns.

After breakfast, the rebels opened fire along the beach at Balboa. After silence was observed, the gunboats were ordered to gunboats ran close along the shore, bombarding the rebel positions. The rebels replied with rifle fire and with the fire of their machine guns.

So vigorous was the enemy's fire that at 8:20 A. M. the gunboat Helena joined the other boats. She dropped shells and fired her machine guns over the beach to incite the rebels, as they kept up a fire of musketry and artillery near the beach and the Scapote river, two miles north of Balboa.

The fire of all seven warships was concentrated on this point shortly after noon.

REBELS BETWEEN TWO FIRES.

The insurgents were eventually forced to the water front for help, and for about four hours, only to be confronted by General Lawton's force on land in the rear, where there was heavy fighting.

During the destruction of several buildings along the water front, the effect of the bombardment is not known.

THE INSURGENTS' DEMANDS.

MANILA, June 14, 1913. M.—The fighting at La Plaz continued hotly all day. General Lawton called out the whole force of 3,000 men, and at 2 o'clock he was able to push the insurgents back only 500 yards to the Sea-side. The latter then retreated.

The insurgents resisted desperately and aggressively. They attempted to turn the fact that the individuals who were arrested were estimated at sixty. The battle continues.

GEN. LUNA KILLED.

MANILA, June 13.—Information believed to be reliable has reached here that the assassin of General Luna and his aide-de-camp, Lieutenant Pasco Ramon, June 8th, by Aguinaldo's guard at the headquarters of Aguinaldo.

The assassin, who went to the headquarters to confer with Aguinaldo, got into an altercation with the captain of the guard, and one of them drew a razor. The guard killed Luna and Ramon, the two bayonets.

Companies F and I of the Twenty-first Infantry were nearly surrounded by a large body of insurgents, but the Americans cut their way out with heavy losses.

The United States turret shell Monardnock and the gunboats Helena and Zafiro trained their batteries on Bakoor, and in the morning, Bakoor was once on fire, but the natives stopped the spread of the flames.

General Lewiston this morning took a battalion of the Fourteenth Regiment and two companies of the Twenty-first Regiment to locate the rebel battery, and then two guns of the Sixth Artillery and four mountain guns were planted against it at 600 yards' distance. LAWTON RALLIES HIS MEN.

At their ammunition was nearly exhausted, the company of Twenty first retreated, but General Lawton dashed down and rallied the men. A little group made a desperate stand. General Lawton, Major Starr and Lieutenant Smith, with a few privates, rallied from the wounded men, fired at the enemy, bringing down some of the rebel sharpshooters from a tree. The sharpshooters were all gone, and they were forced to break through the enemy's ranks, and were obliged to make their way out of the troops.

Braveheart Lawton, who was the bravest of the brave, was shot through the leg after leading his men in the face of a greatly superior force.

THE RESUMED.

General Lawton ceased fighting until reinforcements could be brought. Two battalions of the Fourteenth Regiment and one battalion of the Ninth Regiment were hurried to the front. In the afternoon the fighting was resumed.

TUESDAY, JUNE 13, 1899.
The President of France is a man of the people's heart. There is no disputing that fact after Sunday's demonstration.

It is easy to see why Aguinaldo and the Spaniards have been defeated at the Philippines. They tried their hands at a Luzon game.

An Eastern pastor has taken to locking the church doors on late-comers. Some one should call his attention to the parable about those who "came at the eleventh hour."

Despite the heavy expenses at the Philippines, the national income for May was $3,000,000 more than the outlay. We can keep up business at the old stand undisturbed at that rate.

A Colonel in the German army says that "America is a nation of thieves, liars and hypocrites." If he will come over here and say it we will introduce him to one of our traits that he has overlooked.

A Chicago professor declares that the town is gradually sliding into Lake Michigan. That's all right, but it's the Chicago promoters who have an easier time floating the various corporations they are continually getting before the public.

The Shamrock, the challenger for the American cup, will, it is said, cost Sir Thomas Lipton from first to last fully $100,000. As he is seeking about $100,000 worth of international advertising out of it, to say nothing of the glory, he shouldn't complain.

The Democrats have adopted "Down with the trusts" as their battle-cry. Where is William J. Bryan going to get off on the proposition? It is not his fault that a free silver man, banker and most dangerous than anything we are at present contending with, was not organized.

Negroes are opposing the Japanese immigration. Their ostensible objection is that the increase will cause cheaper labor, but it is believed that the real reason is that they are drawing the color line. Black and white are all right, but when it comes to "brown men" and "streaks of yellow" from the Orient they think it time to call a halt.

The "faith cure" leader who has been fattening at the expense of the so-called brain people across the bay has folded his tent and departed for pastures new, well "healed" as a result of his own efforts in that direction. There are few easier ways of getting money than through the medium of religion and medicine, and a combination of the two is simply irresistible.

The newspapers across the bay are trying to put "The Tribune" in the soup, judging by their various criticisms upon it. The managers of other shows, though, are turning green instead of "The Tribune," for they are madly envious of the notices in question. There is no surer way of attracting enormous patronage to anything in San Francisco than to say that it is rocking with immortal fifth.

CRIMINAL LUNATICS.
The terrifying tactics of Frank Chessman, the lunatic who escaped from Napa, and the alarm that has been created by his being at large, armed and threatening death to those he imagines have wronged him, convey a lesson that should not be merely noted at the time and then forgotten as soon as the special case thereof is no longer in evidence.

The point at issue is the absolute necessity of an asylum for the criminal insane, or some special arrangements for their care in the institutions we already possess. In both San Quentin and Folsom prisons there are insane wards, but they are only for those of their own inmates who became afflicted while serving their terms. There is no provision of law whereby criminals who, before conviction, are shown to be insane can be consigned there, nor in fact would it be proper to send such criminals there, for only those convicted of felonies can be housed in State prisons, and it would be unjust to make such a disposition of an honorable man who, during a fit of insanity, might be impelled to commit a crime.

It is almost farcical, though, to send a patient who is a criminal lunatic to one of the State asylums. At first a good deal of restraint is placed upon every charge, but later on those who prove to be not violent in disposition are accorded almost complete liberty, most of them being permitted to stroll around the grounds and buildings, from whence it is the easiest task imaginable to run away, should such a fancy arise. Now, while with ordinary patients this freedom is rarely abused, in the case of those committed as criminally insane, the records show that quite a big percentage escape. In a large number of instances there is little doubt that the patients never were insane at all, but by dint of shamming succeeded in gulling the authorities, thus reaching a vantage-ground that made escape a comparatively easy matter. A convincing proof of this assertion is that though the law provides that all persons convicted of crimes shall, upon regaining their mental faculties, be returned to court for trial, money, if ever, is a case of that description before the public.

There is only one solution to this criminal insane problem, and that is to provide special accommodations for them. In England there is a criminal lunatic asylum devoted entirely to such cases, and the workings of the system have long since proved a pronounced success. We need such an institution here or a separate building devoted to that purpose attached to one of our regular asylums. Those committed to it should be kept behind bolts and bars just as they are in ordinary prisons, a distinction, however, being observed in that the inmates could all be kept under medical treatment and have their unhappily lot alleviated as much as possible. Incidents like that of the Chessman case now before us prove indubitably that such a precaution is necessary, for where the ordinary criminal is dangerous, how much more so is the individual to whom remains his his animal propensities, made more terrible by the opportunities afforded by the glimpses of reason still left to him. There is no animal in the world more to be feared than the madman.

LARGEST POLE IN THE STATE.
How Oakland Will Celebrate Fourth of July.
The Fourth of July Committee held a meeting last evening and decided on a plan of celebration. It was decided to have the largest display in the State. The pole will be 154 feet, which is twenty-five feet higher than any other flag pole in California. It is proposed to plant the pole on the corner of Eleventh and Main, and San Francisco will be a big raising, music and appropriate exercises on the Fourth. In the evening there will be a display of fireworks.

READY FOR CROP OF NEW TEACHERS.

FRENCH CABINET CRISIS.
Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.
PARIS, June 13.—The morning papers severely criticize the ministerial cabinet. M. Dreyfus, regarding him with leaning toward one side and now on another, and with betraying all parties, thus creating universal dissatisfaction. He was voted, they say, in full support of the cabinet. The cabinet is now in a state of confusion. Most of the Republican and radical papers say the crisis will be short.

HOTEL WOMEN DO NOT AGREE.
A quarrel over the rent of the Hotel Windsor on Washington street has at last reached a climax in a suit filed in Judge Mendenhall's court by Mrs. Clara Pritchard against Mrs. Clara Gardner for the recovery of $175, the amount of rent due for June. Mrs. Pritchard has also garnished all names due from guests at the hotel. Mrs. Gardner sues the hotel from Mrs. Pritchard, who sues Mrs. Pritchard for the unpaid rent of the June rent. She, however, charges Mrs. Pritchard with having caused the departure of guests and her consequent inability to pay the rent now due.

WHY PRINCIPAL CONGDON WAS RETIRED FROM SERVICE.
Did M. J. Congdon, late principal of the Lorin school, smoke cigarettes on the school grounds?
At all events, whether he did or not, at an executive session of the Board of Education, held recently, the statement was made by one of the directors that he had been informed that Mr. Congdon was setting a bad example to his scholars by indulging in the deadly cigarette, and for that reason, among others, it was decided not to re-elect Mr. Congdon.
School Director Sutherland of Lorin was somewhat cautious in discussing the matter last evening.
"Yes," said he, "it is quite true that statements regarding the late principal's fondness for cigarette smoking have been circulated about town and especially among the parents of the children."
"When the Board met to discuss the qualifications of the teachers, prepared to the annual election, one of my fellow directors, whose name I do not care to mention, asked that he had been informed of Mr. Congdon's fondness for cigarettes, and of course the Board could not approve of a teacher indulging in cigarette smoking on the playground, before his pupils. The well effects are obvious."
"Now, mind you, I do not claim that Mr. Congdon failed of re-election because of the previous statement. There were other matters which were brought into consideration, among them the fact that, although he is a man of fine abilities, we thought he had fallen into a rut."
"However, we are willing to go on record as being opposed to cigarette smoking among the teachers of the department. We expect them to set a good example to the boys."
Ex-Principal Congdon is a graduate of the State University and has been at the head of the Lorin school for the past five years. He has resided in Berkeley for about fifteen years.
It is stated to be an applicant for a position in the Alameda School Department.
Elmer Nichols of the Columbus school will probably be the next principal at Lorin.
W. B. Creed, an Oakland boy, is slated to succeed Nichols.

THE ROUNDERS.

From what I can hear I guess that tip that I read in THE TRIBUNE last evening about Theodore Mock is about correct. The story goes that Mock is to be retired as clerk of Judge J. H. Sutherland's department of the Superior Court, and that Charles Pugh of East Oakland is to take his place on July 1st. I have always found Mock a very decent and obliging fellow, and I guess there is no complaint on the score of his work. It is simply a question of politics on the part of County Clerk Jordan, who has some political debts to pay. Mr. Jordan and Mr. Pugh are now off on a camping tour together.

"Speaking about flowers," said County Expert Bullock, and one of the finest accountants in the land, "I believe I grow some of the finest plants in the country in my garden in Alameda. You know Alameda is a great place to grow flowers. We can grow any flower on earth in our town. I have a garden of pink that I will challenge against anything of the like in this State. Did I see 'The Turtle'? Excuse me, please."

"As Prison Directors we must be just," said R. M. Fitzgerald, President of the California State Prison Board. "When Queenin Prison recently killed one man and tried to slay a guard at San Quentin Prison, we were called before the Board Saturday night. My first inclination was to tell the warden to take him out and hang him within an inch of his life. But I saw how we must be just with prisoners. That is the secret of getting perfect discipline. This young Oppenheimer is a thoroughly depraved man. There is something bad in the constitution of such men that seems to develop and grow. Suddenly it blooms out—comes to the front—and the field in the man is exposed. I should say it is like a cancer. What are we going to do with Oppenheimer? We have decided to put him in one of the inoperable cells in the old furniture building. He will receive coarse food and a certain amount of work in his cell each day. He will be guarded night and day and will be taken out and exercised during a certain hour of the day. I will not let him out of my sight. He will be guarded night and day along with the balance of the inoperables in his department. By the way, did you ever stop and think that it is a very hard matter for a prisoner to get out of the Penitentiary? For one, I am very reluctant to see aside to the warden of a jury and the judgment of a court in a criminal case. Then again, you take the parole system. It is a hard matter for a prisoner to be paroled. That little affair took six months."

"The lively business is not very good," said Charles McCleverty, old pioneer at the game in this city. "The electric cars came along and hit our business a crack, but in time we recovered a little. Then along came the hotels and again our business suffered. Now comes the horseless carriage, which has already entered the city. I think I can see the finish of the horse."

"I saw by the newspapers that the Board of Supervisors had revoked the Mayor's license for the Thalia resort on the San Leandro and Buffalo Counties, the proceeds of which are to be used for the building of a new and big sign had been ordered bearing the inscription 'ICE CREAM FOR SALE.' I wonder if they are going to sell whiskey at the old stand?"

"Not if the license inspectors know his business," interrupted Mr. Barnett, temperance advocate and the man who makes the saloon men in the county pay their license. "The Supervisors have given me instructions in this regard, and I am going to see that the law is obeyed in every detail. I went to the Thalia resort and notified the people of the action of the Board. They will not sell any liquor at that place. I'll be on their trail every hour of the day and night."

"I think I will be able to leave for the East next Thursday," said Edwin Markham, author of "Man With the Hoe." "I will visit New York, Boston, Washington and many other places. I will return to Buffalo, Conn., on the 15th of July. At this conference social and political problems will be discussed. I expect to return to Oakland by August 1st. No, indeed, I have not the slightest idea of giving up teaching school. I have had several good offers, but I am not ready to accept any. If I can, in the way, I have just received word from my publishers that the first edition of my book, 'Man With the Hoe and Other Poems,' has just been exhausted. I think that is a very good showing."

By way of a little suggestion, I want to give a quiet tip that if you have the big end of stick in your soul you cannot afford to miss the Italian opera at the Alhambra. It's the real thing. When you hear them, heart drive either been twanged out of time or are broken.

Oakland Will Now Be On the List.
Oakland is to celebrate, after all. This is well and as it should be. At one time it looked otherwise. Our committees made a tardy and rather struggling start, and it seemed for a time as though they would have to be called back by the gentlemen in the judges' stand. But, fortunately, they have evened up and are now stretching down the quarter with every promise of a good, square race and a passage under the wire neck and neck.
Our Fourth of July Joint Committee is all right, and so is our Fourth of July celebration.
The public spirited citizens having this matter in charge are doing everything that could be expected of them, and more. Oakland is now assured of a worthy and interesting and every way satisfactory observance of the nation's birthday anniversary.
Oakland is saved from the danger that for the moment threatened it of being effaced from the map and the list of American cities possessed of the formal amount of American patriotism.
Everything now is lovely and the goose hangs high. Don't you hear him, citizens and farmers and business men?
Fellow. It is the eagle, emblem of freedom and aggressive joy, that is thus disporting himself.
Anyway Oakland is going to have its Fourth of July celebration.

WOMEN WHO WORK.

All Oakland shivers in its shoes. The town its humor lacks; For Mulman Chippendale is broke loose, And murder wields its ax.
Through keyholes we survey the scene, Our doorways stand in cracks; With rising hair and senses keen We dodge the gleaming ax.
Our proudest dames deplore cold feet, Base fears our brave men tax; In haste we scurry through the street, With eye peeled for that ax.
We long for open warfare brave, For guns and snare knapsacks; Envy our boys across the wave Who dread no man with ax.
The Mayor sits upon his dir., His desk in thunder whacks; For figures now the axes no dir., Disenraged by man with ax.
Chief Fletcher rattles in his den; With clues he veers and tacks, And harries hold Cap. Petersen About that man and ax.
Heaven grant the time may come full soon When we get at the facts, And when good town may change its name About the man and ax.

IS IT BRIBERY TO PAY MONEY TO CLOSE THE SALOONS?

REV. E. S. CHAPMAN ANSWERS FOR BERKELEY.
Is it bribery to say to the Town Trustees of Berkeley: "We will pay the less in license into the town treasury if you will close up all the saloons in the town?"
That is the charge that some of the saloon men of the college town are making, and they are threatening to take the matter into court. The saloon men are on the warpath. It is anything to break down the deal made with the Trustees by the temperance people.
The temperance people put up $1,500, and within three months the saloon men must wind up their business.
The Rev. E. S. Chapman says the temperance people are all right. He laughs at the idea of bribery. The anti-saloon campaigner says: "Why, in Pasadena, the people raised $3,000 or $3,500 to fight the saloon. Now, in Berkeley, the people have raised $1,500 to fight the saloon. The Trustees would not close the places where the money was put in bank. About $2,000 of this money was spent fighting the case, and the balance returned to the subscribers. And the Supreme Court upheld the action of the Trustees. Don't you think the Berkeley saloon men are given rather long time to wind up their business? You know the Trustees could revoke their action and make the order take effect immediately."

WHAT I THINK OF THE FIGHT BETWEEN JEFFRIES AND SHARKEY.

By HENRY A. NEWBERRY OF THE TRIBUNE STAFF.
Jeffries and Sharkey are practically matched to do battle in September, and that means a hurricane fight between the two most powerful men in the ring.
Their encounter a little over a year ago, in which Jeffries got the decision on points at the end of twenty three rounds, was a great disappointment to those who expected to see a furious slugging match. At that time, however, Jeffries was a slow and awkward boxer, and Sharkey has always claimed he was in no condition to enter the ring that night, owing to a strained back, which he injured in training.
Since that time both men have shown wonderful improvement, and it is doubtful if their fight next September lasts ten rounds. The boxers curiously detest each other. The sailor mainmains that he was robbed of the decision by the referee in his fight with Jeffries, while the good natured champion has never had an unkind word for any boxer except Sharkey. This mutual hatred will infuse an additional element of fierceness into their forthcoming struggle, and the great fight that lowered Fitzsimmons' head will seem a tame and uninteresting affair beside the whirlwind of flying fists when Sandoz Sharkey and Hercules Jeffries crash together in mid-ring.
Of course, now that Jeffries has defeated the mighty Fitzsimmons in such hollow style and won the championship, he will be a 2 to 1 favorite in the betting. But nevertheless Sharkey has a much better chance to win from Jeffries than he has from Fitzsimmons, and those who bet on such contests will do well not to hold the broad backed water too cheaply. A boxer who puts his Gas Robin out in a punch, as Sharkey did, and knocks out such a wizard of the ring as Kid McCoy in ten rounds, is a dangerous opponent for Jeffries or any one else.
Sharkey, unlike Fitzsimmons, has a pair of sturdy, powerful legs under him that are not going to give way when Jeffries throws his huge bulk on him in the clinches. The sailor is now about 27 years of age—in the very prime and flower of his strength, life weighs, trained and stripped, about 185 pounds, is remarkably fast on his feet, a hard hitter and possesses marvelous stamina.
For all that, however, the gigantic Jeffries should and probably will whip him, but it will be a terrific fight while it lasts, and the victor's fancy will lightly turn to thoughts of arms and court plaster when it is all over. There is one satisfaction for Californians, though, and that is that, whichever of the two men goes, the championship will remain in this State, as Sharkey's home is in Vallejo.

FOR POLICEMEN.

ST. CLAIR HODGKINS, CHIEF—YOUR TURN NEXT.
The new Chief of Police, St. Clair Hodgkins, is one of the youngest men who has ever been appointed to the position in this part of the country. He will have command of men who are older than he is both in years and experience, but there is no doubt that he will be able to hold his own. The Chief-deputy joined the Police Department in 1887, when he was appointed a detective, and some of the most brilliant work of the department is credited to him during that time. Officer Hodgkins has served in every capacity on the force. While nominally a patrolman, he acted as a most able man. His friends expect him to distinguish himself in the position of Chief, which he is to assume on the first of next month.

STREET CAR MEN.

J. TYLER, EIGHTH ST., LINE—YOUR TURN NEXT.
"This is getting to be one of the best lines in the city," said J. Tyler of the Eighth street, West Oakland, line. "We have a steady patronage during the day, and sometimes a heavy one. At night it is always heavy. You see, we drain the biggest part of West Oakland. That part, some time ago, was supplied by the broad gauge local, on which a man could ride free. When the gates were put on the steam cars, that drove the people to the street cars, which run every ten minutes, I have worked on a number of lines, but I want to tell you that the patrons of this line are among God's chosen people on earth. I have yet to find a bear among them. They are of all classes, but I would rather work among them than with those of any other part of the city."
